Back-to-School Marketing Plan — Staff Review Draft

Internal planning document · last updated 2026-07-10 · not for client distribution

Market & Brand Research

Charlotte County Public Schools' first day is Aug 10, 2026. Bookable window runs July 13 – Aug 8, 2026 (~4 weeks, starting the next business day after this plan was drafted), with the Open House finale landing on the last Saturday before school starts.

Concept A — “Color Match + Wax”

Two tracks, same offer: book it privately any day in the window, or come to the one-time Open House where the raffle gets drawn live. The pricing/discount logic stays identical across both tracks — the Open House isn't a deeper discount, it's the same offer plus a live event on top.

Track 1 — Everyday Bookable (private, appointment-only, July 13 – Aug 8, 2026)

- Color match: a proper Jane Iredale color-match + mini application (mascara, blush, lip pairings, how to apply makeup), one-on-one at a reserved time slot — mom, teen, or both. Positioned as a complimentary consultation when paired with a Jane Iredale product purchase (or $50 stand-alone if not paired with a purchase).
- Discounted wax: 20% off any wax service (brow $25→$20, lip $15→$12, brow+lip combo $35→$28, or a body zone of lower legs or underarms) when booked in the same appointment as the color match. A pairing incentive, not a public price cut.
- Who does what: Amber or an Aundrea rep runs color-match; Brandy (facial zones) or Aundrea (body zones) runs the wax.
- CTA: call/text or Book Online.

Track 2 — Open House Finale Event (Saturday, Aug 8, 2026 — two days before school starts)

- One-time posted hours exception (10am–1pm) — not a standing hours change. Normal hours stay Mon–Fri 9–5, Sat–Sun closed.
- Color-match table in the lobby staffed by whoever isn't waxing (Diana, Aundrea, Amber, or Brandy); wax with Aundrea or Brandy — clients pay at the counter, then wait their turn. Same 20%-off-when-paired pricing as Track 1 — no separate event-only discount tier.
- Raffle drawn live at the Open House (e.g. 12:30pm) so kids take the backpack + school supplies home that day. Entry = booking a color-match + wax slot anytime in the window (either track) OR attending the Open House — no purchase necessary. Cap backpacks at 2–3 per session.
- Minors & consent: signed parental consent at check-in for anyone getting waxed — don't rely on implied consent from attendance. Age floors: 12+ brow/lip, 14+ body, parent present. Color-matching has no age restriction.

Concept B — “Clear Skin Before the First Bell”

Market the Face Reality 12-week Acne Bootcamp ($899) directly at teens/parents — the one genuinely differentiated, high-ticket back-to-school offer nobody else locally runs. A program started in late July won't be “done” by Aug 10 — frame it as “start the plan now, walk into the semester already on track,” not an instant fix.

Concept C — Grandparent Gift Angle

Simple gift-booking push: “Send them off with confidence — gift a back-to-school skin or makeup session.” Targets the 65+ population that's the real local wallet, rather than competing for the thin under-18-household segment directly. No new service needed.

Other Ideas in Play

Idea 2 — “Picture Day Ready” Mini Package

Single bundled visit (not a membership): brow shape + lip wax + gentle facial, sold as a one-time back-to-school appointment for anyone who can't make the Open House date.

Idea 3 — Mom + Kid Paired Booking

Book mom's advanced facial (Amber) and the kid's gentle facial or wax (Brandy/Aundrea) in adjacent time slots so they come and go together — just a “book together” prompt, no new service.

Idea 4 — Grandparents Day

It's an older community and some kids don't have their parents around — adapt Idea 3 into a service grandparents would enjoy bringing the kids to. Still being shaped.

Idea 5 — Parent Recharge Add-On

While kids are at the makeup table or in a wax chair, offer Diana's IV hydration as a 30-minute add-on for the accompanying parent — adult-side revenue without folding injectables into a family event.

Campaign Plan Skeleton

- Audience: parents (primarily moms) of tween/teen kids in Punta Gorda / Charlotte County already engaged with skincare/beauty; secondary audience is the teens themselves via IG.
 - Timing: bookable window July 13 – Aug 8, 2026; Open House finale Saturday, Aug 8, 2026.
 - Channels: Instagram (announcement + raffle mechanic), email if a list exists, in-spa signage, local FL back-to-school Facebook parent groups — reach explicitly into Port Charlotte/Murdock, not just Punta Gorda.
 - Content needed: event announcement graphic/reel, Jane Iredale product highlight tying to the existing Professional Makeup / Jane Iredale page, post-event recap/UGC from the raffle winner.
 - Success metrics: bookings during the window, raffle entries/new IG follows, wax-service bookings in the two weeks after (attribution via “how'd you hear about us” at check-in).

Open Questions Still Outstanding

- Sat–Sun closed — one-time hours exception for Aug 8 needs to be posted/approved.
- Minor consent form drafted (separate file) — DRAFT ONLY, needs Florida-licensed attorney review before use with any parent, especially the liability-release language.
- Raffle backpack count / budget — 2–3 per session per latest note.
- Charlotte County first day of school — resolved: Aug 10, 2026.
